Sprinklers

Sprinkler systems made simple. You'll get a reliable, flexible, easy-to-adjust sprinkler system with Toro's revolutionary new MultiMatrx® nozzle technology. Just dial in spray volume, arc and distance—and get smooth, even, head-to-head coverage for your entire yard—all with one type of sprinkler.

Count on it.

Homeowners have trusted the Toro name for more than 85 years. Toro products mow our lawns, trim our hedges and clear our walks. Count on Toro sprinkler components for quality assurance, season after season.

Professional products require professional installation.

The performance of an automatic sprinkler system is only as good as the professional who installs it. A quality contractor ensures long-lasting, efficient operation of your system. Choose a licensed professional with an established reputation and solid references. All materials and workmanship should be covered by a warranty.

V-1550 Series Sprinklers

Toro MultiMatrix® nozzle technology gives you infinite control over your lawn.

Advanced matrix-design sprinkler technology allows easy adjustment from the top of the sprinkler using an ordinary screwdriver or coin.

Easily adjust trajectory as tree branches grow lower or reduce water flow in heavily shaded areas—without changing nozzles. The V-1550 MultiMatrix nozzle gives you infinite control over your lawn without affecting performance. It's that simple.

They pop down for safety.

Pop-up models retract when not in use, so they're safe for the kids and even the mower.

The right placement for precise, even coverage.

Automatic sprinklers are designed for precise, even coverage without gaps or runoff. Sprinklers are placed so that the spray from one reaches the next, as shown in the diagram to the right.
